

Your body. Whose rules?

Sex ed, children's rights, culture and religion

Keynote speaker Rebecca Bromwich will explore the Ontario Health and Physical Education curriculum through the lens of children's rights

Wednesday October 3, 2018

Ellis Auditorium, Ellis Hall

Queen's University

7-8:30 pm

Dr. Rebecca Bromwich is the Program Director of the Graduate Diploma in Conflict Resolution in the Department of Law and Legal Studies at Carleton University.

Responses will be given by Dr. Pamela Dickey Young (School of Religion) & Dr. Colleen Davison (Department of Public Health Sciences), Queen's University.

We will be hosting a free dinner for highschool students who would like to participate in an open discussion with Dr. Bromwich before the lecture (5-6:30pm). Space is limited and registration is required. Please contact Dr. Valerie Michaelson valerie.michaelson@queensu.ca or see www.childhealth2.com for more information.

This lecture has been generously sponsored by the School of Religion and the Childhealth 2.0 Research Program at Queen's University